

5.60.032-AD Compensation For Teaching In-Service ETC

- (1) Since administrative personnel are responsible for all duties related to their position throughout the year, they shall not receive additional pay or honoraria for teaching in-service education courses unless they are clearly providing such services during their established vacation period.
- (2) Personnel, whose primary responsibility is classroom teaching, though they may have part-time supervisory responsibilities, are entitled to additional remuneration for teaching in-service education courses during the school year.
